4. [ ] LIAISON Chuck Snodgrass, on the staff of the House Appropriations Defense Subcommittee, called to say that both he and Jim Fellenbaum, of the Senate Appropriations Committee staff, consider the Consolidated Cryptologic Program reprogramming I carried to them yesterday to be subject to Committee approval. Chuck says they are willing to listen to reasons as to why these items need not have Committee approval, but unless they get additional explanation, he and Jim expect that no obligation of funds will be made. I passed this to [ ]

[REDACTED]

LIAISON Ralph Preston, House

✓ Appropriations Defense Subcommittee staff, called to request certain information for Representative Bill Chappell (D., Fla.) relating to laws to deter the disclosure of intelligence sources and methods information. I said I did not think there would be any problem in sending them the proposal that had been cleared in the prior Administration which had become public knowledge, but it would have to be understood that the legislation does not necessarily represent the views of this Administration. Preston said he understood.

9. [REDACTED] BRIEFINGS. I again spoke to Chuck Snodgrass, House Appropriations Defense Subcommittee staff, about the possibility of changing the 11 April NFIP budget date. He said they would probably not be able to give a firm answer until mid-March. I also discussed this problem with Graden Lose, at Department of Defense, who suggested possibly switching the 11th with intelligence related hearings on the 12th. We are checking this with the Director's calendar.

14.  LIAISON Called Guy McConnell, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, and Charles Snodgrass, House Appropriations Committee staff, and both of them felt it would be a good idea to invite the Chairmen and Ranking Minority Members and appropriate staff of the Committees to Ambassador Carlucci's swearing-in ceremony as DDCI. I made it clear that any such invitation would be extended only after the Senate had acted but that the ceremony is now scheduled for 5:00 p.m. on Friday. These names will be forwarded to Mike Malanick, A/DDA.
